

Author Guidelines

The manuscripts must be prepared in the way stated below:

- 1) The title must represent the content well and be written in bold and aligned left. The manuscript must be separated into meaningful subtitles. The word “Introduction” should be used as a title, and the subtitles should be numbered.
- 2) The name of the author must be written in small and the surname in capital letters and bold. It must feature an asterisk indicating the author’s institution, correspondence, and e-mail address.
- 3) At the beginning of the manuscript, there should be an abstract (maximum of 150 words) in Turkish, German, or English, depending on the written language. Just below the abstract, five keywords should be mentioned.
- 4) The text must be written on A4 paper size (29.7 x 21 cm), in Word, Times New Roman font, 12-font size, and 1.5 line spacing. Paper format (top 3.5 cm, bottom 2.5 cm, left 2.5 cm, right 3.0 cm) and the page numbers must be given at the top and outside. Footnotes must be written in 10-font size in a single space. Articles should contain max. 13.000 words, including abstract and footnotes. Words should not be stressed within the text with bold and italic letters.
- 5) Each table or graphic should be numbered as it is seen below and an appropriate title must be given. The number of tables or graphics must be written left-justified; the Data source or the graphic should be placed just below the table.

6) Less than five lines of quotes must be written in the running text. They must be given opening and closing quotation marks, and quotations of more than five lines must be written disjointedly from the running text with a 1.5 cm indent from both left and right sides of the main text, with 11-font size in single space.

7) Classical footnotes system should be used for the references, and these (references) should be placed at the bottom of the page. While giving the references, the points below must be attached to maximum importance.

7.1.) Book or article by single author should be written as follows:

Andican, Ahat, Değişim Sürecinde Türk Dünyası, Emre Yayınları, İstanbul 1996, p. 115.

Türk, Fahri, Wirtschaft als Ordnungsfaktor? Die türkischen Wirtschaftsbeziehungen mit dem Nordirak, Internationale Politik und Gesellschaft, No 4, 2008, p.35.

If the same work is to be cited again, it should be written after the surname of the author as follows:

Andican, ibid., p.13.

If another work of the same author is used, the work's title used should be written after the author's surname.

Andican, Ceditizmden Bağımsızlığa Türkistan Mücadelesi, p.27.

If citing from the same page of the same work without intervening with other works, the phrase

"ibid." should be used.

If citing from another page of the same work without intervening with any books or articles, the phrase

“ Andican, ibid., p.236.” should be used.

At the end of every footnote, there should be a full stop.

7.2.) In a book or article by two authors, the conjunction "and" should be placed between the authors' names. The first author's surname and name followed by the „et al.” phrase must be specified in a book or article by more than two authors.

7.3.) Article in an edited book should be written as follows:
